

A photograph showing a repair on a red plasterboard surface. A diagonal joint is visible, with a thick, white, textured compound applied along it. Two red arrows point from a central text box to the joint. The board is supported by a metal frame with blue-painted rails. The background shows a workshop setting with various tools and equipment.

Plasterboard joint